PLEASING ECHOES.

Visiting Catholic Knights Delighted With Our Celebration.

Messrs. Henry Bosquet, Henry Hunold and L. D. Bax did much to make pleasant the stay of the Supreme officers of the Catholic Knights and the visitors. Dinners, suppers and luncheons followed in rapid succession. All were delighted with their reception, as will be found from the expressions that follow:

Dr. Felix Gaudin said to a representative of the Kentucky Irish American: "I think the audience one of the largest and most appreciative I ever saw. The triple demonstration of the day was very encouraging to me."

State President F. X. Altenburger, of Ohio, said Monday: "It was a fine affair. I am certainly pleased with the treatment I received here. If you want me to come back, only ask me."

J. J. Veid, of Florence, Ala., President of Branch 842, says: "I was never better pleased anywhere, nor ever saw a more imposing parade or enthusiastic audience. The Knights of Louisville are all right."

It is too bad that President Altenburger did not have more time allotted to him. He understands the insurance business and knows how to make figures interesting. Make him come again.

Supreme Trustee Peter Wallrath will attend a big celebration of the order at Cincinnati tomorrow.

The Very Rev. Dean William Seiberts, of Tell City, Ind., is working hard to build up that branch. It has gained thirty-two members since January 1.

Supreme President Gaudin is busy these days. He will speak at St. Louis on May 17; Evansville, May 20; Jasper, May 21, and at Cannelton, Tell City and Vincennes on dates to follow.

Supreme Trustee Peter Wallrath, of Evansville, left Louisville Monday to officiate at a celebration of the Catholic Knights at Henderson.

The branch at Jasper, Ind., which was organized by Henry Bosquet twenty-five years ago, will initiate a large class Sunday.

Miss Hallie Pryor, who operates the private telephone exchange at J. Bacon & Sons, sustained a severe electric shock on Wednesday. In some unknown manner the wires became crossed, causing her to receive the full force of the current. Miss Pryor toppled over and it was feared for a while that she had expired. Fortunately she recovered consciousness in a few minutes, but was so nervous that she had to suspend work for the day.

SPRING MEET.

The Classic Kentucky Derby Will Be Run Next Week.

Wednesday will be Derby day, an event celebrated throughout Kentucky and an occasion that draws thousands of visitors to Louisville. This year the New Louisville Jockey Club has determined to make the spring race meeting more attractive than ever and as a consequence handsome purses have been hung up for the various races and eleven stake dates have been arranged.

President Charles F. Grainger, Vice President and Manager M. J. Winn, Secretary Lyman H. Davis and Treasurer H. C. Applegate are very busy men this week and all arrangements for the big meeting are practically perfected.

When the meeting begins on Wednesday the grand stand will be filled with the elite of Kentucky belles and beaux and the scene will be one of unrivaled splendor. The Kentucky Derby will be the main feature of the day. The value of the stake is $50,000. The Clark handicapped will be run on Saturday and will inspire almost as much interest as the Derby.

Silver Hills on the Interurban Line in Indiana Are Proving a Pleasure Mecca.

Silver Hills, just west of New Albany, have always been popular as a resort where city people can go for a day's outing, but of recent years the crowds attracted have been almost innumerable. Scores of picnic parties are held every week, and the Holliness camp meeting, which usually lasts six weeks every summer, attracts thousands from many States. From indications this year it seems that the old hills will afford peace and rest to more people than in any previous season. The largest crowds usually visit the hills on Saturday and Sunday, but this year hundreds are going through the week, in order to escape the rush. There is not a bright, sunny day that the hills are not thronged with merry-makers and pleasure-seekers.

Since the completion of the electric road up the hills by the Louisville & Southern Indiana Traction Company the delightful retreat has proved a mecca for pleasure seekers and sight seers. Hand-some cars leaving Third avenue and Market street every fifteen minutes land the traveler on the summit of the hills an hour later, after an exhilarating ride across the Ohio and through Jeffersonville, New Albany and the fertile valleys of Southern Indiana. Notwithstanding the unusually large amount of travel during the pretty weather, ample car service is furnished and the pleasures of a trip to Silver Hills can not be adequately described in mere words. Every convenience for the comfort of the traveler is furnished during the trip and while at Silver Hills.

Bobzien's Cubana Cigar, 5c. Best made. SKATING SOCIETY.

Prominent members of the Nonpareil have organized a new skating club and will hold their first party at the Auditorium Rink, on Third street, from 10 to 1:30 o'clock on the night of Thursday, May 8.
